Green Apple Newsletter

www.greenapplefolkmusic.org

Pot Luck, Annual Meeting, and Jam 🎵 Saturday Sept. 19 5:00 Mosquito Hill

Bring your instruments, voices, songs, ideas, questions, feedback, gripes, and, of course, some food to share, as well as your own favorite beverage. We'll start with dinner and the chance to re-connect with old friends and welcome new members.

Then you'll have a chance to sound off to the board and offer your ideas for the future of Green Apple. We'll follow up with lots of music... 🎵🎵
 Look for us in the hall where we have our concerts and hoots. (small room not available this year)

Double Feature/2 Dynamic Duos

The DitchLilies

Wisconsin's American and International Roots duo, The DitchLilies, are Kari Larson and Lisa Schultz, multi-instrumentalists/vocalists who play early swing, old time mountain music, world music and juke joint songs. Together, they turn back in time to dust off the rare and forgotten tunes or to hone the familiar, tried and true melodies to share with audiences of today. The DitchLilies bring a refreshing sound to the roots music revival.

Seasaw

Seasaw is the alliance of two souls that push and pull in combination to produce a sound that is charismatic and powerful. Meg Golz and Eve Wilezewski take turns leading and following in the musical spaces they have created. This folk-pop duo has been a popular choice at Appleton's Mile of Music as well as midwest folk music festivals.

Folk Instruments
Included in Clare's Legacy

Have you ever thought you'd like to experiment with a musical instrument that's new to you? Are you reluctant to invest time and money when you have no idea if you'd like it? Here's your chance to try out an instrument at no cost!

In addition to the CD's which Green Apple inherited from Clare Knudsen, we now own 2 dulcimers, one guitar, and a fiddle. To borrow an instrument, contact Doug Wheeler at dwheeler@new.rr.com

The long a-awaited followup to our favorite songbook, Rise up Singing is available. Request it at your local bookstore or check out www.riseupandsing.org

The Green Apple Mission:

"The Green Apple Folk Music Society seeks to promote folk music in Northeastern Wisconsin. We do this by sponsoring concerts, "hoots" (open mic events), picnics, campouts, and other activities. In addition we serve as a communication link to our members and the public regarding folk music events and news."
